East County youngsters enjoy doing Gym Trix exercises

by Greg Eichelberger

A unique blend of tumbling, gymnastics, cheerleading and dance classes, taught by Karen Mozerka, has taken root in several East County venues, offering dozens of youngsters from ages 1 to 99 the opportunity to get in shape and have a little fun as well.

Gym Trix, an 18-month-old mobile program which operates out of four facilities: the Lakeside and Alpine Community Centers, the Alpine Fitness Club and Fletcher Hills Fitness World, was the brainchild of Mozerka, a lifetime resident of La Mesa.

"I came up with the idea because I was a dancer and a gymnast, and I wanted to pass that knowledge and love on to other people, especially kids," said the Grossmont College graduate.

As a competitive and recreational gymnast since the age of three, and a USA Gymnastics Certified teacher for nine years (in La Mesa, Bonita and El Cajon), she feels she can offer them a variety of courses from which to choose

She also loves working with children, because they get into it so much and are so teachable. The fact that their little bodies bend, bounce and stretch in ways adults cannot dream of (for the most part), adds to their overall skill level.

Each venue where she teaches has a special advantage for her and her charges.

For example, the Fletcher Hills building offers a padded aerobics room floor and lots of mirrors, the Lakeside Center has soft wood floors and several large windows, while the Alpine Fitness Club has padded floors and walls.

With over 400 children (all from the East County) involved in any of the 44 classes at any given time, one might think the teachers are overwhelmed. But with a ratio of no more than eight children per instructor, Mozerka keeps every thing on an even keel.

"I teach all of the tumbling classes, Stephanie Bennett takes care of the hip-hop (an up-tempo urban kind of thing), Rachel Ederer handles dance (including jazz, tap, modern and ballet) and Ginny Floridi helps out with dance and tumbling," she said.

Working through the Lakeside School District, Mozerka offers 10-week sessions (hour long classes, once a week for just $55, 45-minute sessions, $45, and so on) and even offers multiple child discounts.

Lakeside's Tessa Galoion, the mother of four-year-old Alyson (who was busy bopping around on the tumbling mats) and a third-grade teacher at La Jolla Elementary, was one parent who was glad she found out about this program.

"We were going to the Santee YMCA," she said, "but this one is closer to home, cheaper and it's through the Rec Center." She also said that she loves everything about the class, including the way Mozerka works and interacts with the children.

Another local mother, Isabella Moore, described Mozerka as patient, kind and loving in dealing with her daughter Jessica, 5, who has cerebral palsy.

Moore said that the fact that Mozerka has mainstreamed Jessica has given her an amazing amount of confidence in herself.

"Jessica has also done things I have never seen her do before. It's wonderful. I would recommend this program to anyone, whether they have special needs, or not," Moore added.

It's a story, not only of the instructors, but the other children helping their peers out that impresses Moore the most, and gives Gym Trix the advantage over most regular dance and tumbling courses.

Even though the several hundred pupils might keep the teachers at sort of a distance, Mozerka, who wants to be doing this when she's old and gray, claims the contrary.

"The classes themselves are small, so when you get down to it, and you get familiar with the students, you find you can have a personal relationship with every one of them," she said, adding, "I love this. There's not a negative thing I can say about it.

To find out more, contact Mozerka at 785-2022, or the Lakeside Community Center at 443-9176.

ONLY COUNTY TEAM

La Mesa Div. 3 Boys edged in Tri-Sectional title game

by Michael Krawczak

The La Mesa Div. 3 Boys All-Star AYSO team ventured 120 miles north to Upland on March 29 for the Tri-Sectional Tournament, and fell just short of extending its remarkable unbeaten string through a fourth tournament.

This was the first appearance by a San Diego County all-star team in this three-year-old tournament, which matches the top teams from Sections 1, 10 and 11, representing virtually the entire lower half of California.

The format featured the three section champions and a wild-card team competing in single-elimination.

La Mesa drew Lompoc as its opening opponent. La Mesa Coach Ed Lewis noted that while the Lompoc team was quick, La Mesa struck first early in the game.

Aaron Garcia beat his defender, then went one-on-one with the goalkeeper. When the keeper braced for a high shot, Garcia powered the ball low into the net. Mike Iafe then scored on a cross from Trevor Pike to put La Mesa ahead, 2-0.

In the second half, Lompoc scored on a multipass play, then tied the game on a successful penalty kick. With about five minutes remaining, Garcia raced down the left side, and passed to Marcus Johnson, who scored the game-winner.

The La Mesa Div. 3 All-Stars, pictured here with the team's coaches, advanced to the finals of the AYSO Tri-Sectional tournament before losing in the finals to Riverside in Upland in a shoot-out after playing to a 1-1 tie in regulation. La Mesa had gone unbeaten in all-star play to that point.

With that victory, La Mesa earned a spot in the final against Riverside.

Early in the finals' first period, midfielder Bobby Martin took a pass from Pike, and scored from 20 yards out on an outside shot, to give La Mesa a 1-0 lead.

About 10 minutes later, Riverside moved down the left side, crossed to the right and scored to tie the game. It was a very physical, hard-played game, with a lot of body-to-body contact, the coach noted.

Throughout the 70 minutes of regulation play, both teams had shots bounce off the bars, just missing goals. La Mesa goalkeepers Jimmy Riley and Brad Lewis were outstanding, stopping numerous shots with Riverside players right on them. But, neither team scored again, sending the game to overtime. Two nine-minute overtime periods were also scoreless, setting up a shootout to determine the champion.

With Riverside shooting first, the teams were tied after the opening five shooters, each having succeeded on four attempts. That sent the shootout into sudden-death. Both teams made their sixth shot. On the next round, Riverside connected, but La Mesa missed, giving Riverside the title.

This was La Mesa's only loss in the three month all-star season, during which the team took top honors in three tournaments.

Lewis praised his team, noting that, throughout the tournaments, there were no attitude problems among his stars. The team jelled, with players taking the initiative to switch positions on the field on their own if winded, or to play through if they had the advantage.

Lewis also thanked his assistant coaches, Rick Garcia and Brian Pike.

Even as this La Mesa all-star team reached heights previously unapproached by local teams, four of the team's original selectees declined the honor, instead having qualified to play on their high school teams.

There was clearly no shortage of talent among La Mesa Div. 3 Boys.

Tonight, the waning gibbous moon rises in east-southeast about 2-3/4 hours after sunset.. An hour before sunrise on Wednesday, moon is in south-southwest, with Antares, heart of Scorpius, 11 degrees to its lower left.

Tomorrow, an hour before sunrise on Thursday, moon is in south to south-southwest, with reddish Antares, heart of the Scorpion, 11 degrees lower right.

Thursday, an hour before sunrise on Friday, two brilliant planets, Venus and Jupiter, are just 5 degrees apart in east-southeast. Venus is the brighter one, to the upper right. They'll appear about one degree closer each morning. Also note the location of the moon. Look daily!

Friday, at nightfall in mid-April each year, Orion is low in west-southwest to west. Look for his distinctive belt of three stars in a row, with reddish Betelgeuse above and blue-white Rigel below.

Extend Orion's belt to the left to locate Sirius, the brightest night-time star, in southwest. Extend the belt to the right to find bright Aldebaran, eye of Taurus, in west, and the Pleiades cluster in west-northwest. Look early each clear evening for the next several weeks, keeping records of which stars you see. All of these will be gone by the 3rd week in May.

Saturday, a spectacular close pairing of the two brightest planets will occur on the mornings of Wednesday and Thursday, April 22 and 23, as Venus and Jupiter appear only about half a degree apart. An hour before sunrise Sunday, the two are just over 3 degrees apart, with Jupiter lower left of brighter Venus. Look between east and east-southeast. The moon, approaching last quarter phase and just over half full, is in south-southeast.

Sunday, an hour before sunrise on Monday, look low, between east and east-southeast, for Jupiter 2.3 degrees lower left of brilliant Venus. The moon, now a fat crescent, is in southeast. Moon and planets are fascinating to watch all this week. Don't miss Thursday's spectacular gathering!

Monday, an hour before sunup on Tuesday, a fat crescent moon is in east with Venus and Jupiter, now within 1.5 degrees apart, some 25 degrees to moon's lower left. Jupiter is to Venus' lower left. Watch the order of the three bodies change within the next few mornings.

Hello, sports nuts. It's springtime again and thoughts at Forum Publications turn to various and sundry pleasures. For Joe Naiman, it's the beginning of the rodeo and short track stock car racing seasons.

As for yours truly, it's baseball (well, with a few West Coast Hockey League playoff games sprinkled here and there). For those who haven't heard, the Padres, currently 8-2 (after winning in dramatic fashion over the Diamondbacks on a Steve Finley ninth-inning grand slam), hold down first place and lead the National League in offense (averaging over six runs per contest). But let's be honest, the team needs to have a great year, otherwise the fickle fans, who become voters on a new ballpark in November, will turn against them.

As for the home opener, anyone who thinks East County didn't have a few things to say, obviously doesn't know his local sports history. First of all, former Padres manager, Dave Garcia (of El Cajon), was on hand visiting the Boone (Aaron and Bret) brothers (of the Cincinnati Reds), both born in La Mesa.

Ed Runge, another resident of EC, along with his son, Paul, both former big league umpires, made the first "play ball" call of the new year, and to top things off, Craig Nettles (the former Yankee and Padres third baseman), who once lived in Lakeside, was on hand to scout things out. The team then went on to win in the tenth (Carlos Hernandez two-run HR in the bottom of the ninth and Greg Vaughn sacrifice fly an inning later.

Speaking of triumphs, nothing epitomizes the word more than the 1997-98 San Diego Gulls. With a 53-10 record, the team advanced to the second round of the WCHL playoffs by beating Bakersfield, three games out of four. Friday evening, the club spotted the Phoenix Mustangs a 3-1 third-period lead in the opener of the next round, before blasting home four tallies in the last nine minutes to win, 5-3.

"We knew we were a better conditioned team and it was only a matter of time before we'd wear them down," said defenseman Brad Belland after the exhilarating victory. Of course, by the time you read this, four games will have already been completed.

The Rawlings Sports Caravan, a mobile workshop and museum, will offer East County folks an opportunity to see baseball and the history of sports craftsmanship up close tomorrow at Oshman's Sporting Goods in the Grossmont Shopping Center, from 3 - 7 p.m. Call 697-8160 for more information.

Anyone interested in joining the Charger Girls, an interactive dance troupe that performs at most Charger home games, is asked to call coordinator Tammy McPhee at 975-7009.

Former Christian High star quarterback and pitcher Matt Berry tossed a one-hit shutout over Westmont to give his Master's College squad a 2-0 win, and raise his record to 6-1. This comes off a two-hitter last week against Menlo.

Another former local prep standout, Trisha Tucker (Grossmont High), smacked a first-inning homerun to lead her USD women's softball team to a 3-2 win over Azusa Pacific in the opening round of the Power Bar Classic Tournament held at UCSD.

In high school baseball, Granite Hills leads the Grossmont South League with an 11-3 mark, while Grossmont, at 11-6, heads the North Conference. Last week El Capitan (8-5) journeyed to Scottsdale, Ariz. to compete in the prestigious Rose/Adidas National Classic, where it split four games, losing the last, 3-2, to Xaverian High of Brooklyn, the seventh-ranked team in the country.

Meanwhile, in the annual Lions Club Tournament, Granite Hills was pounded by defending Division I CIF champion, Mission Bay, 15-4; Eastlake edged West Hills, 7-6; Helix knocked off Rancho Cucamonga, 3-2; Cimarron (of Arizona) beat Monte Vista, 6-4; Mar Vista pounded Christian, 11-1; and Poway defeated Grossmont, last year's titlist, 5-1.

Well, that's all I have time for this week, children, but if you'd like to see your name (or your team's name) in this column, just call 390-7103 (or E-mail ikeforum@juno.com). It's the right thing to do. Until then, though, have a great sports week.

Added money and volunteers made Lakeside best IPRA outdoor rodeo

by Joe Naiman

At the International Finals Rodeo in Oklahoma City recently, the Lakeside Rodeo was presented with the IPRA's Best Outdoor Rodeo award for 1997.

Jody Bruton, the president of the El Capitan Stadium Association, feels that the reason for the award goes beyond her husband, who is rodeo producer Ben Bruton.

"It's a community effort. It should be bringing some positive things into Lakeside, including money," she said.

While the Lakeside Rodeo, to be held Friday, is expected to draw 20,000 for four performances and sell some merchandise, the cowboys think of the money coming out of Lakeside.

In addition to the purse money provided by entry fees, the Lakeside Rodeo has a $24,500 added money payout, which draws top contenders from all over the United States.

"If they have a chance to earn quite a bit of money as the prize, and that they probably like to come to California, it's worth their effort to pack up and come here. In addition, as a committee, we try to be great to the cowboys and treat them fair," said Bruton.

In what really counts, IPRA-sanctioned judges will have the task of treating the cowboys fairly.

In addition, the El Capitan Stadium Association has about 100 volunteers who will be working the rodeo and engaged in tasks helping either the spectators or the cowboys with their needs.

The Stadium Association, which normally meets twice a month, has been meeting weekly for the past two months to get ready for the rodeo. The security guards and sheriff's deputies are paid, but the rest of the Lakeside Rodeo staff volunteer their time.

That effort showed up in the Best Outdoor Rodeo voting, for which all of the IPRA cowboys vote. In the past, the award had only been for Best Rodeo; the Lakeside Rodeo had three previous wins.

But this past year, the IPRA split the award into Best Outdoor Rodeo and Best Indoor Rodeo. The Tulsa Rodeo won the best indoor award, and the elimination of Tulsa from Lakeside's best rodeo competition may cause the Lakeside Rodeo to repeat this year, although voting won't be conducted until the end of the year.

One eliminated service this year is the post-rodeo Saturday night dance, which has been held at the Rodeo Grounds in the past. In Cahoots will be hosting that dance this year to give the ECSA volunteers a break between the Saturday night performance and the Sunday afternoon performance.

The no-alcohol Friday night dance will return for the third year, however, and will be held at the Rodeo Grounds after the 7:30 performance.
